

Robert H. Treman State Park – Playground Equipment

Deborah and I walked the Robert H. Treman gorge trails on July 3, 2016. At the lower gorge park (within the park's campgrounds), we came across playground equipment. We had discussed if there were more "natural" colors for playground equipment. The following pictures show equipment using more subdued colors – rather than bright primary colors.

Welcome sign – Landscape Structures (playlsi.com).

Equipment for younger children (2 – 5 years).

Playground for older children (5 years+)

Closer look of playground for older children – notice climbing wall.

Close-up of treehouse and second slide.

Close-up of play area under treehouse.

Close-up of “activity” equipment. Children hold the top wheel and spin the slanted discs, below.

Two distance shots to show how well the playground equipment blends into the natural setting – plus the equipment is built around existing trees!
